DAILY TRIBUNE.

Thursday Morning.....Oct. 8, 1857.

Cessation of Finance.—We hail the attention of our readers to the prospectus of this paper. It proposes a "strong contest" of economy, and an immediate bill. Mr. Breckinridge, and as a writer, to be well known to our readers as a writer, to [illegible] notice from us. Prospectus [illegible] country is so familiar with Kossuth's autobiography. Phillips, (of the N. Y. House,) Curtis, Schuyler, and the other [illegible] known in connection with Territorial affairs. Those who desire an interesting and attractive fireside paper, and to see how the "heroes of Kansas" and Border Ruffians look, should contribute to the Crusade of Freedom.

Financial.

It would hardly be proper to say that times are growing better in Chicago, as mine revolution for gold is hardly [illegible]. Brokers yesterday charged from twelve to fifteen per cent. to convert Western currency into coin. Exchange is getting neither cheaper nor plentier, and seems to be growing scarcer—certainly dearer. The price asked and exacted is truly formidable. How can business men afford to pay 10 to fifteen dollars on the hundred for New York funds? How can a dealer afford to give Exchange a per cent. equal to the ordinary profits of trade, and stand long under the load? Sooner or later he must succumb, or realize, however, that for the trading public there is no relief. This for the trading class have borne up with remarkable strength and manliness. The list of Chicago failures is not enormous, compared to the whole number of suspensions, compared to the whole number in business, has been insignificant. But how long the strain can be sustained by many is a question. The weaker must go to the wall, if relief does not come in some shape.

There is only one way out of the difficulty; the grain crop of the West must go forward. If this season's crop remains on our hands during the coming winter, our indebtedness at the end of that time will be enormous. Produce must go over to next year; our currency must continue to depreciate; and more and greater disasters must come at the East than those reaction on the West will fill our cup of financial woe to the brim.

Chicago has withstood the financial hurricane with surprising solidity, better than her people would have expected, had they known in advance what was coming. That she possesses recuperative energy and resisting power, must be apparent to all. Up to this date no considerable American city has experienced less damages or holds in reserve larger resources to meet the uncertain demands of the future.

There was a slight improvement in New York yesterday—no new failures being announced. The suspension of E. F. Whittemore, & Co., bankers, of Toronto, is reported by telegraph. We hear of only one additional failure in this city—that of Messrs. Rosseter, Parmelee & Smith, Yankee Ware Manufacturers. They have gone to assignment.

Exposure in Cincinnati.

Last Saturday was looked for with apprehension by business men of Cincinnati. It was the day when a great amount of monthly paper matured. The summary rates of Eastern Exchange, added to the tightness of the money market and the almost impossibility of borrowing on any security, or at any rate of interest, led many people to anticipate more and more [illegible] protests and failures.

Our venerable, A. G. Tanner, Esq., was in Cincinnati on Saturday, and returned yesterday. He informs us that much to the surprise of the business community, scarcely a piece of paper went to protest, and there were no failures of any consequence. Obligations were generally met, notwithstanding the terrible pressure. It would be just the exchange. On Monday matters were cheerful; there was more confidence, and more general confidence. The banks seemed sound and solid, and prepared to discount as liberally as they could consistently with their own safety. Their resources were pretty well secured from the panic, and believed that the worst was past, and times would steadily improve. A tight winter was anticipated, but it would not be time enough for a general upheaval before cold weather would set in. Mr. Tanner does not apprehend that there will be any more bank failures with even a little, or that a specie suspension will be generally required by the banks throughout the country.

Yesterday Forbids.

A. G. Elliott, the Republican candidate for Governor of Wisconsin, is stumping that State. He has fifty appointments announced. Gen. Henry, candidate for Lieut.-Governor, has fifteen appointments—a portion of his appointments will be in the German language. Mr. Mallory, candidate for Attorney-General, and S. D. Hastings for Treasurer, have much of them a supplementary.

The campaign is opening up briskly, and we shall have more to say of it's stock hospitality, Chicago and the paper effect in getting back to stock in [illegible].

The Thousand Hours Wanted.

We hope it will be borne in mind in these hard times, that the Colton and others are offering the thousand hour premium offers for the benefit of the poor. It is not to be a "drug in the market" for the benefit of the rich, but to enable the poor to get it. It is for the benefit of the poor, and not for the benefit of the rich. The poor are the ones who want it, and the rich do not want it. The poor are the ones who want it, and the rich do not want it. The poor are the ones who want it, and the rich do not want it.

Land office Matters Arrested.

We learn from the Democrat of the 1st, that the Land Office business has been suspended by the Register and Receiver, and that the Land Office will be closed for the present. The Land Office will be closed for the present. The Land Office will be closed for the present.

MURDER OF THOMAS APPLEBEE.

Examination of Phillip Jordan, the Alleged Murderer.

The examination of Phillip Jordan, for the murder of Thomas Appleby, was commenced before Justices Milliken and D'Wolf, yesterday afternoon, in the Common Council Chambers.

Carlos Haven, Esq., City Attorney, appeared for the people; Chas. Mann, Esq., and W. W. Drummond, Esq., appeared for the prisoner.

It will be remembered that on the morning of the 15th of June, 1856, Thomas Appleby, a well known and respected citizen, was found murdered in his store, No. 81 Randolph street. The body was found lying in the back part of the store, in a large pool of blood, the skull broken in several places, the brains of the face and left jaw broken in, and a number of stabs inflicted upon the body. From all the circumstances surrounding the case, it was supposed that the murderer was committed during the night. A watch on the night of the 15th of June, at a time when the sidewalks must have been crowded with people. Corner Bench made a full investigation of the affair, but no trace of the murderer was found, and the whole affair lay, up to the present time, remained shrouded in impenetrable mystery.

Some weeks ago, John Gibbons, Esq., a lawyer of this city, believed that he had obtained a clue to the murderer, and also sufficient evidence to warrant an arrest. He procured a requisition and went to Pittsburgh, where he arrested Phillip Jordan for the crime.

The prisoner was formerly an employee in Mr. Appleby's store, and had been discharged for some alleged misconduct. He is about five feet and a half in height, well and compactly formed, has dark brown hair, reddish whiskers closely cut, blue eyes, small nose, full lips, heavy jaws and a large neck. He possesses rather a pleasing and open countenance and appeared perfectly at ease and self possessed.

The following is the testimony as far as taken:

James S. Black, sworn.—I was coroner of Cook county in June 1856; did not know Thomas Appleby in his life time; held an inquest upon the body of a person supposed to be Thomas Appleby; the inquest was held at Mr. Appleby's store on Randolph street; it was between the 10th and the 12th of the month; I was called to hold the inquest on the body of Mr. Appleby; saw the body in the back room of the store, lying upon its back, with a number of wounds which I did not examine particularly; the skull was broken in a number of places; the body was lying in a pool of blood; I called physicians to examine the body; I am a physician; there were a number of wounds on the body; the wounds could be seen on the head; the instruments used to inflict the wounds were a hatchet and a knife; I did not examine the wounds very particularly; the wounds upon the head were, in my opinion, made with the back and edge of a hatchet; the wounds upon the head were fatal and the cause of the death; the first man I saw in charge of the premises when I arrived there; there was no one in the store; the doors were fastened in front and rear; saw the officers and the detective police; no one allowed in the store; that regulation was observed until the jury were summoned; the jury was composed of Peter F. Dole, C. A. Hull, and I have been some other than the officers in the store; a few only after the jury was empanelled the jury to appoint to all. Up to this date no considerable American city has experienced less damages or holds in reserve larger resources to meet the uncertain demands of the future.

Common Pleadings.—The police are after the leaders of obscene publications. Yesterday two of them were brought before the Police Court and fined $75 each. It appears that Lieut. Ambrose, with a squad of men, made a descent on a second stand kept at Randolph street bridge, and arrested Martin O'Shaussy, the owner. But three or four of his class of books were found in his possession. Another descent was made upon a stand in Kinzie street, kept by Timothy Cronan. A stool pigeon had been used, who gave the desired information, and the officers proceeded to the spot and arrested the man. There were found in his possession a large collection of the most filthy books both bound and unbound, obscene playing cards and tobacco-boxes with the most immodest pictures pasted inside. A bill of $22 03, Simon Wilson, Dr., signed by Geo. Ackerman, who was lately broken up in New York, was also found. The court made the following order to be entered in the judgment: "That the Police Clerk destroy the property immediately."

The police are making a move in the right direction, and we trust they will carry it out to the full. The headquarters in New York, from whence have issued those filthy publications, has been broken up and the agencies here should be destroyed.

World's Temperance Convention.—We publish on the third page, a highly interesting letter from Baptist, Friends, describing a great Convention of eminent Protestant divines, at the Prussian capital, and the interview with the King, who is a staunch Protestant. Delegates were present from a score of countries, and the cause of Temperance included. The American Minister, Wright, and Dr. Baird, made speeches before the Convention.—The essential points of faith of the orthodox churches, those upon which they all agree, were presented by Dr. Baird, and discussed; from which it appears that the orthodox Protestant Communion so nearly agree in religious belief, that it is surprising that they maintain so many separate sects and keep up paper partition walls between each other.

Fire in West Van Buren Street.—Yesterday morning about 5 o'clock, the old flooring mill on West Van Buren street, near the bridge, formerly occupied by Messrs. Gage & Haines, was discovered to be on fire. The building was a very large one, and it was supposed it burned very rapidly, making a brilliant light. The building was owned by Gen. W. Noble, who had a lumber office on the lower floor. It was entirely consumed, together with a considerable quantity of lumber piled near it. The loss is about $4,000, none of which is covered by insurance. The fire was doubtless the work of an incendiary.

We call the attention of our readers to the grand bill sale by Clarke & Thomas, of 100 lots in the vicinity of Union Park, to take place on the ground this afternoon. The terms of sale are very favorable and the location a good one. They advertise to take certificates of deposits on R. K. Swift, Brother & Johnston, in first payment for all lots sold.

Accidentally Drowned.—On Tuesday night, about 8 o'clock, a deck hand on a propeller, named Timothy McCarty, fell into a river at Wells street bridge and was drowned. His body was recovered in about an hour afterwards, and Coroner Hansen held an inquest. Deceased was intoxicated and has no relatives in this country.

Gas Accident.—Tuesday at noon, while the workmen on the Catholic school house at Bridgeport were at dinner, a little boy about seven years of age, named John Corbitt, son of a widow, was killed by a pile of plank falling upon him. The little fellow was gathering chips and it is supposed attempted to climb upon the pile.

Dangerous or Crowning.—A female named Mary Howard was found walking in Wells street, dressed in man's apparel and in company with William Johnson. She was fined $10, which her gallant paid.

COMMERCIAL.

WEEKLY REVIEW OF MARKET, &c.

OFFICE OF THE CHICAGO DAILY TRIBUNE, Thursday Evening, Oct. 8, 1857.

There is no improvement in commercial or financial affairs during the past week. The great object, Wheat, has not yet found its way to market, but large purchases are in progress in value, owing to considerable competition between buyers—to go but for market and speculation. The high rate of eastern exchange, driving them to make purchases for market and speculation, and to retain their heretofore large stocks. Exchange on New York was in demand yesterday at 10 per cent. premium, and to-day as high as 10 per cent. is paid, while gold is worth 10 per cent. premium, and silver 4 per cent. This is unknown, the foreign element, Niagara is telegraphed at Buffalo, with a slight decline in breadstuffs. A cent or two lower is accepted for wheat, and no sales to-day to speak of.

Receipts of Wheat have been less for the week, but fewer the last two days than previously. It is very supposed, however, holders will submit to present rates. The Corn movement is active at a slight advance, currently held at 40 cents. Flour sells in small lots to-day at $5 per barrel, and even at such figures scarce paid, but this prospect opens for a large [illegible] of a profitable trade. The quantity now on hand, and the only reasons for buying it is an expedient for meeting eastern indebtedness to one of exchange.

The following are the principal articles received and shipped by Lake from the port of Chicago for the week ended at last to Oct. 5th:

Receipts.

CITY OF CHICAGO.

Thursday Morning..... Oct. 9, 1857.

A Gloomy Prospect.

We are entering upon a winter of inevitable distress, from which no class of society will be wholly exempt. Of the wealthy, those who have thus far borne up against the disastrous tide, will with difficulty sustain themselves through the coming winter. Of the poor, those who have laid up something against the coming necessity, will acquire to exercise the most rigid economy, and those whose daily bread is immediately dependent on daily toil, must, in very many cases, suffer from cold and hunger. Provisions, among the commercial value of the past forty days are the means of manufactories kept in motion, by the skill and industry of hundreds of men and women, and bringing the necessaries of life to thousands nearly or remotely dependent on the forges and spindles of the country. Hardly a day passes without bringing intelligence of the stoppage of some establishment of manufacturing industry—some great home of labor—and then the direful consequence, "five hundred men" "thrown out of employment." Throw out of employment means thrown out of homes, thrown out of bread, thrown into the street. The failure of this or that cotton or iron mill means the failure of so many human beings in the items of food, fuel and shelter. Failure is but another word for famine and suspension is synonymous with starvation. Already has the struggle with hunger commenced in Massachusetts. The Fall River Star says "Whole families are suffering for bread—the fathers willing and eager to work, but "nothing to do. We have heard tales of distress that would bring tears to the eyes of the "most indifferent." This is only preliminary to the cry which will rise up from a hundred centres of industry before the chill of the Winter is fairly upon us.

Dare You Answer?

As our Times neighbor seems short of political topics pertinent to the times, we will furnish it with one, in the shape of a few plain interrogatories. We want it to answer Yes or No, without evasion or equivocation, viz:

Question No. 1.—Do you believe the doctrine laid down by President Buchanan, in his letter to Prof. Silliman, that "Slavery existed in Kansas at the time of the repeal of the Missouri Compromise, and still exists there under the Constitution of the United States?"

Question No. 2.—Do you believe with the President, that the Constitution carries Slavery into the Territories, and maintains it there, in defiance of the will of the people thereof?

Question No. 3.—Do you deny the position laid down in Buchanan's letter of acceptance, that the people of a Territory, like those of a State, shall decide for themselves whether Slavery shall or shall not exist within its limits? or do you like him, repudiate Squatter Sovereignty, and now hold that Slavery exists in all Territories, by virtue of the Constitution?

Question No. 4.—What has caused Douglas and Buchanan to throw overboard the squatter sovereignty holdup, upon which the latter rode into the White House?

Question No. 5.—Have you ever seriously doubted the truth of the late immaculate conception, that the Constitution carried slavery into Kansas and Nebraska, and has it always been a mystery to you "how any one could doubt it?"

Question No. 6.—Did not Buchanan perpetrate a monstrous deception upon Northern Democrats, when he declared upon becoming a candidate in favor of the doctrine of squatter sovereignty? Shall we not all honest Democrats be visited by him as that base fraud henceforth shunned from supporting his administration?

—Come, Mr. Times, gird up your loins, and return these unequivocal answers to the foregoing half dozen short interrogatories.

Indiana Election.

The Telegraph despatches announce that the Republicans in Convention at Indianapolis have nominated for the vacancies in the Supreme Court, Tarkey of Rockford, and Horace P. Biddle, of Logansport.

These nominations are to be commended and will command the universal approval of the Bar and people of Indiana. Both the retiring Judges, Gregory and Sweazy, have, we believe, been soon to advance the position of the Western Bench; and in Biddle and Tarkey, we see the promise to rank Indiana, in her legal character by the side of New York and Massachusetts.

This is gratifying. There is no department so commanding in its sphere; so infinite in its relations with the people; so potent to defeat or exalt the best ingenities of the State as the Judiciary. And whether in or out of Illinois we hail an advance to the Bench as the finest evidence of a moral and intellectual improvement. Though springing from, we would have it shown all party considerations, apart from any bias or aptitude inconsistent with justice or true humanity. Not confined to the paltry and dishonest quirks that make that thing of man's detestation—a "sharp" lawyer, but broad, genial, thorough; comprehending, developing and reaching to the claims and interests that embrace the wealth, the honor, and the life of a State.

Such we believe is the opening prospect at Indiana. Personally, we are unacquainted with Mr. Tarkey, but from the highest sources we are informed, that to a masculine grasp of intellect, irreproachable character, and great industry he unites a thorough knowledge of the spirit and practice of the law.

With Mr. Biddle we have an intimate acquaintance. He is a gentleman imbued with the purest and highest conception of life; ranking among the first scholars of the profession and one of the foremost lawyers of the State. He will bring both handsome prestige and a share of rich experience to the Supreme Bench, having served seven years with distinguished ability as Judge of one of the Circuits of North Indiana.

Mr. Biddle's mind and acquirements are eminently adapted to settle at issues upon the equitable questions which he has been nominated. From a life course of the most liberal studies he will assume the post entirely free from all that conflicting training and technical strategy, which embarrassing the mere lawyer, are a disqualification in the Judge. In address affable; of a character above reproach; of a mind while analytical still equal to the grasp of any subject Horace P. Biddle will be an ornament to the Bench of Indiana.

A Rebuke.

The business of the Democracy of Philadelphia, and Pennsylvania, is in a condition necessary to their usefulness to attract a manly regard for the purposes of energizing the State of its gone by renewed endorsement upon the Republican party? This base and unmanly spirit was promptly rebuked by the Hon. J. Ingersoll, a prominent Democrat of Philadelphia, in a letter of which an article we publish elsewhere. It puts the matter on the right issue, and tells the people the real cause of the present financial embarrassment of business.

New Hampshire Items.

—The Journal, in the county of Coos, a Republican paper published at the town of Pittsburg, in this State, by Francis Kenney, formerly editor of the Times of that place. Mr. Kent is a prudent printer and a good editor. He will be likely to give the readers of Lexington a lively paper.

—The Democratic Convention of Merrimack county met to-day and nominated Hon. Ira Perley for Senator. The Hon. Nathaniel Bouton was nominated for Governor by the Democratic Convention of Rockingham county.

—The Colonel of the 2nd Regiment, Dragoons, Gen. Ashbel Smith, is to be tried at Pittsburg on February 2nd next. The Adjutant General of the State, Gen. Jonathan Harvey, has been summoned as a witness.

—The Democratic Convention of Grafton county met to-day and nominated Jared W. Williams for Governor. The Democratic Convention of Cheshire county met to-day and nominated Hon. Thomas Cotton for Senator.

Indiana Election.

The Telegraph despatches announce that the Republicans in Convention at Indianapolis have nominated for the vacancies in the Supreme Court, Tarkey of Rockford, and Horace P. Biddle, of Logansport.

These nominations are to be commended and will command the universal approval of the Bar and people of Indiana. Both the retiring Judges, Gregory and Sweazy, have, we believe, been soon to advance the position of the Western Bench; and in Biddle and Tarkey, we see the promise to rank Indiana, in her legal character by the side of New York and Massachusetts.

This is gratifying. There is no department so commanding in its sphere; so infinite in its relations with the people; so potent to defeat or exalt the best ingenities of the State as the Judiciary. And whether in or out of Illinois we hail an advance to the Bench as the finest evidence of a moral and intellectual improvement. Though springing from, we would have it shown all party considerations, apart from any bias or aptitude inconsistent with justice or true humanity. Not confined to the paltry and dishonest quirks that make that thing of man's detestation—a "sharp" lawyer, but broad, genial, thorough; comprehending, developing and reaching to the claims and interests that embrace the wealth, the honor, and the life of a State.

Such we believe is the opening prospect at Indiana. Personally, we are unacquainted with Mr. Tarkey, but from the highest sources we are informed, that to a masculine grasp of intellect, irreproachable character, and great industry he unites a thorough knowledge of the spirit and practice of the law.

With Mr. Biddle we have an intimate acquaintance. He is a gentleman imbued with the purest and highest conception of life; ranking among the first scholars of the profession and one of the foremost lawyers of the State. He will bring both handsome prestige and a share of rich experience to the Supreme Bench, having served seven years with distinguished ability as Judge of one of the Circuits of North Indiana.

Mr. Biddle's mind and acquirements are eminently adapted to settle at issues upon the equitable questions which he has been nominated. From a life course of the most liberal studies he will assume the post entirely free from all that conflicting training and technical strategy, which embarrassing the mere lawyer, are a disqualification in the Judge. In address affable; of a character above reproach; of a mind while analytical still equal to the grasp of any subject Horace P. Biddle will be an ornament to the Bench of Indiana.

A Rebuke.

The business of the Democracy of Philadelphia, and Pennsylvania, is in a condition necessary to their usefulness to attract a manly regard for the purposes of energizing the State of its gone by renewed endorsement upon the Republican party? This base and unmanly spirit was promptly rebuked by the Hon. J. Ingersoll, a prominent Democrat of Philadelphia, in a letter of which an article we publish elsewhere. It puts the matter on the right issue, and tells the people the real cause of the present financial embarrassment of business.

New Hampshire Items.

—The Journal, in the county of Coos, a Republican paper published at the town of Pittsburg, in this State, by Francis Kenney, formerly editor of the Times of that place. Mr. Kent is a prudent printer and a good editor. He will be likely to give the readers of Lexington a lively paper.

—The Democratic Convention of Merrimack county met to-day and nominated Hon. Ira Perley for Senator. The Hon. Nathaniel Bouton was nominated for Governor by the Democratic Convention of Rockingham county.

—The Democratic Convention of Grafton county met to-day and nominated Jared W. Williams for Governor. The Democratic Convention of Cheshire county met to-day and nominated Hon. Thomas Cotton for Senator.

—The Colonel of the 2nd Regiment, Dragoons, Gen. Ashbel Smith, is to be tried at Pittsburg on February 2nd next. The Adjutant General of the State, Gen. Jonathan Harvey, has been summoned as a witness.

—The Democratic Convention of Grafton county met to-day and nominated Jared W. Williams for Governor. The Democratic Convention of Cheshire county met to-day and nominated Hon. Thomas Cotton for Senator.
